'Cats Finish Second, Bow to Cape, 92-77

The Cape Girardeau Indians lived up to their national ranking and completely overpowered the MSC Bearcats, 92-70, in the championship game of the fourth annual MIAA Holiday Tournament.

The high scoring Redmen won going away and were never seriously threatened in the last half of play as the Bearcats could come no closer than a 10 point spread in the final stanza.

Voss Stars for 'Cats

Despite a 25 point effort, plus 14 rebounds by pivotman Voss, the 'Cats hit a meager 53 per cent of their charity tosses, 14-26 while Cape drilled home 37-50 for 71 per cent from the stripe.

The 'Cats' early chances were greatly reduced with the loss of Don Dake, 6-4 forward, who fouled out with five minutes remaining in the first half. Voss, Branch, and Bob Nelson also joined Drake on the bench late in the second period with five personals.

Maryville outshot Cape 23-27 from the field but Coach Charley Parley's charge out rebounded the Moss-men 46 to 27.

Ringstaff Tops Scorers

Six-two Cape forward, Don Ringstaff, took the Holiday finale's scoring honors with 26 markers; Carl Ritter helped out with 21, as Bill Giessing and Marv Teel tallied 19 and each.

Gathering eighteen in the first half, the 6' 8" Voss was held to seven in the last period with a total of twenty-five for the night. Paul Lizzo and Dick Rishel added 11 and 10 for the Bearcat cause.

The championship victory ran the Cape team's victory skein and season record to eight wins and no losses. In 1960, the Indians won the MIAA Holiday Tourney with the Bearcats also finishing in the runner-up slot.

Debate Team Travels to Ill.

The MSC Varsity Debate Team traveled to Normal, Ill. to debate in the Illinois State Normal forensic tournament Friday and Saturday. Results of the tournament were not available at press time.

Traveling to the tournament at Normal, Illinois, were Jeanie Morris, Priscilla Porter, George Fountain, Bill Hardesty, and Mr. George Henshaw, debate coach. Besides participating in the six rounds of varsity debate, Miss Morris competed in oral interpretation, Miss Porter in oratory, and Fountain in extemporaneous speaking.

'Invalid' Opens Tonight On Little Theatre Stage

Thanks

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank Coach Milner, Mrs. Sheldon, members of the student body and everyone else who helped to make the MIAA Holiday Tournament, held at NWMSC over the Christmas holidays, a credit to our school. We are proud of the NWMSC Bearcat basketball team which earned second place in the Holiday Tournament."

In making this statement President Jones added that the State Commissioner of the MIAA, Mr. John Waldorf, and the coaches attending the tournament were highly pleased with the hospitality accorded visiting teams.

Staff Changes

There will be some changes made next semester in the staff of the Northwest Missourian.

Due to other obligations Carolyn Enis, managing editor, and Bob Cobb, sports editor, will no longer be with the paper.

Reporters who will be student teaching part of the semester are: Jane Dunnihoo, Linda K. Jones, and Richard Wiederholt. Associate editor Joyce Iwen will also be student teaching.

Anyone who is interested in reporting for the Missourian next semester should see Larry Schulenberg or Mr. Donald Peel.

Permits

Students who have not yet done so should fill out an application for an enrollment permit as soon as possible.

Although there is no deadline on these applications the first permits will soon be issued.

The permits will be based on alphabetical order again this semester.

"The Imaginary Invalid", a three-act farce by Jean-Baptiste Moliere, seventeenth century French playwright, will be presented tonight, January 9, and run through the 10th and 11th. The play will be produced in the Little Theatre and will employ arena staging.

The illness of the invalid, Argan, are purely imaginary and his fantasies are propagated by his physician, Monsieur Purgon.

In order to have a doctor within his family, Argan betrothes his daughter Angelique to Thomas Diaforus who has recently graduated from medical school and who is the son of another doctor, Monsieur Diaforus. Beline, Argan's wife, wants Argan to send both of his daughters to a convent so that she will inherit his estate.

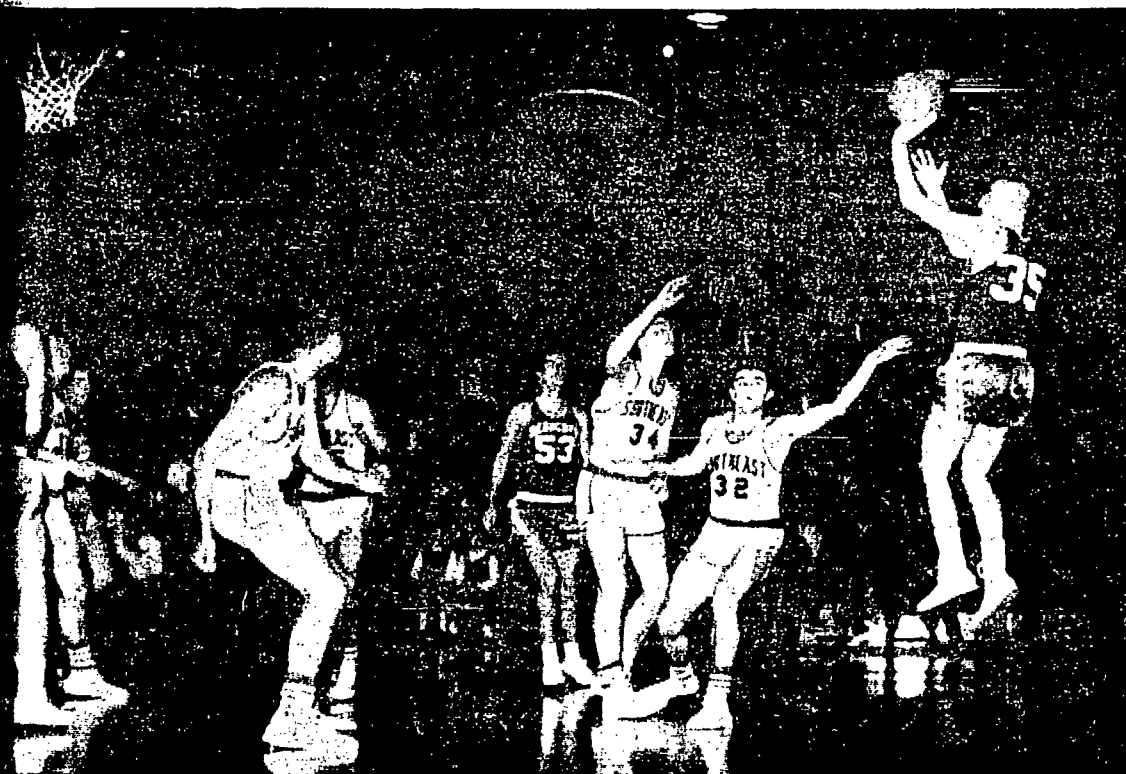

Through a misunderstanding, Angelique thinks her father wants her to marry Clearte, whom she really loves.

Beralde, Argan's brother, and Toinette, the maid, form a conspiracy to convince Argan of the doctor's quackery and show him that Angelique must be allowed to marry Clearte.

Through a ruse, Argan is shown the errors of his ways and the trickery of his wife. The play closes with the proverbial happy ending.

This production is being presented by the oral interpretation class. Admission tickets are on sale at 50 cents each.

The players are:
Argan—Brenda Kay Lawrence
Toinette—Mary Klinkefuss
Angelique—Judy McGinnis
Fleurant—Carolyn Enis
Beline—Daphne Hickman
Monsieur De Bonnefoi—Tom Cramer

The Stroller

The usual grind is not so usual. This though, keeps popping into the Stroller's mind as he finally got around to working out his final schedule. She really hated to break her New Year's resolution but some how the instructors just didn't understand her explanation as to why she couldn't attend their finals.

Oh, well, that's water under the bridge. Now, back to the schedule. Physical Science, Anatomy and Physiology — Saturday, Kinesiology — Saturday, Physical Background of the Drama — Saturday, and Physical Education — Friday. Nothing like getting physical about it.

All is not lost, though. As the bleary eyed Stroller regains his vision, by getting over his New Year's Eve hangover from the year before, of course, he considers all the things he didn't get done.

She didn't learn how to make chocolate covered motza balls in time for Hanukkah. He didn't break the standing twist record — it was a bad record too, one of these that just didn't quite make it, too.

She wasn't able to get her Mickey Mouse ears back from her cat. To top this the people on the paper won't even let him sit down.

So the Stroller fades lowly into the distance, strolling, ever strolling into 1963.

Care in Programming Urged

Regulations concerning dropping of courses are under study at the present time. A proposal is being sent to the Board of Regents for their consideration whereby a fee will be charged for the dropping and/or adding of each course.

It is being proposed that this regulation become effective January 28, 1963. Therefore the Dean of Administration urges all students to use the greatest care in scheduling their programs for the second semester.

Advisors and Chairmen of Departments have been requested not to sign changes in programs for the second semester unless the reason for changing can be classified as essential or in some sense extraordinary. The changing of sections of a course will not be permitted. Students should be very careful to check class admittance cards during registration time to make certain that they are obtaining the right course card, particularly paying attention to obtaining the right section card, double-checking the section number against the hour of meeting which appears immediately to the right of the section number on the class card. Science laboratory courses show hour of lab section. It is the student's responsibility to make certain that he obtains the correct card for the class in which he intends to register.

Permits for the second semester are now available in the Registrar's Office. All students should obtain their permits in the Registrar's Office Monday and Tuesday, January 28 and 29, and all students are required to have their advisement sheets at the time they meet with their advisor during registration. Students who do not have their advisement sheets will not be permitted to register. All advisors have been instructed to refuse to register students who do not have their advisement sheets.

New Year—New Resolutions

With the end of each old year, the same old thing happens. And people make resolutions, too. Since the typical resolution lasts about as long as a check from home, we have finagled the truth at great sacrifice. These are the real thoughts of these people while they were making their resolutions.

Donald Bell—Physics 61—Fun for Everyone! Dean Bladt—8:30 may sound early, but it darkens at 6:00. Billie Sol Estes—Farming is good for the soul of a man. Mrs. Sheldon—Mama is a delicious name, honey, but showing affection is against college policy. The Administration—Behold, we shall make the liberals to resemble radicals. Bill Needles—Foreign aid—an average must be made. Adlia Stevenson—I'm sorry, Jack. I was just trying to scare him a little. Luther Boone—I'm now on, they'll be narrow and stylish. The Concrete Man in the Fountain—Paint I can see, but birds over me . . .

A couple of comments for the new one . . . A memorial to a passing institution is a noble sentiment. The Memorial Wall Association is asking contributions for a plaque. Word is out that the motto is soon to be chiseled in its place; "What time Friday did you say you're leaving?"

"Say, have a sweet year!"

Peace Corps Calls Recruits

Do you want to travel to Africa, Asia or the exotic South Seas? How about Central or South America with all expenses paid? Ladies and gentlemen Uncle Sam needs you.

The Peace Corps is in need of volunteers to begin training both now and in June. The only requirement is a willingness to serve; but a college degree, while not a requirement, is considered a definite asset by Peace Corps officials. Married couples are eligible provided both qualify and they have no dependent children 18 years of age or younger.

The major need at present is for teachers, particularly in the areas of science and mathematics, but there are openings for skilled and professional personnel in almost every major field of endeavor.

Students who are interested in joining the Peace Corps at the end of January or June semesters should obtain preliminary questionnaires now. The questionnaires may be obtained from the placement office, any postoffice or by writing directly to Peace Corps, Washington 25, D.C.

While the questionnaire is being processed and the references contacted the applicant usually takes the Peace Corps Placement Test. This examination is basically an aptitude test to aid in placement of the prospective volunteer.

PEM Club Plays 'Leemy Sticks'

"Leemy Sticks," a rhythm game, provided a fresh approach to entertainment at the PEM Club Christmas party. The sponsors were given gifts from the club. Refreshments served by Sherry Speer and Rhodetta Mardensen rounded out the festivities.

The candy sale, a recent moneymaking project, was reported closed. Jan. 7 is the date set for the next meeting.

Supper Meeting for AAUP

The American Association of University Professors will hold a pot-luck supper meeting January 9 in the Lakeview room of the Student Union.

The program for the meeting will consist of a debate, presented by college students, under the direction of Mr. George Hinshaw.

APO, GSS Sponsor March of Dimes

January is the month of the annual March of Dimes drive on campus. Containers for money are in the Den and dorms. Also, a blanket will be passed at home ball games for contributions.

The drive is sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega and Gamma Sigma Sigma as a service project.

Ruth Ann Elliott and Phil McCuiston, co-chairmen, urge all students to give.

Alumni PUBLISHES Revised Book

Frances R. Stuart (class of '37) recently completed revision of "Rhythmic Activities," both Series I and II. Miss Stuart is now serving as Supervisor of Physical Education for the New York State Department of Education.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Sometime ago I either read or heard it said that an editor should never be able to say he accomplished all he set out to do with his newspaper. And, as this is the last issue for this semester, I'm sitting here, looking back at the Missourian past and thinking of plans for the Missourian future.

There is much yet to be done with this college newspaper and much yet to be done for it. There is a definite place on this campus for this publication, especially now that NWMSC is growing by leaps and bounds. There are many ways to make us a closer-knit student body, but a means to this end is the Missourian. So, one of my New Year's resolutions is to try to aid the process of making us one and not many.

But, before the Missourian can be the megaphone of the students, you will have to take a more active part in campus life. Yes, I know I'm always preaching on this subject, whether it's in this column or in private (or public) conversation. I'm sorry if you don't like it, that's just too bad. This college is on the whole, one of the outstanding schools in Missouri, but we could be so much better. The administration can do quite a lot, but the rest and the most is up to YOU.

AWS Begins New Year

A Christmas party proved most effective in starting the ball rolling for the newly organized Town Girls Association of AWS. Featuring a skit and a comic gift exchange among other entertainment, the party was very well attended. In addition to a large group of girls, eight housemothers enjoyed the event. Plans for future activities are now in progress. It is hoped that all girls living off campus will join in building upon the groundwork laid for a truly effective TGA.

"New Life for New Year"—SCA

The Student Christian Association devotion entitled, "New Life for the New Year", was presented by Janice Peterson on January 3. The devotion period ended in an individual dedication of Christian resolutions.

The S.C.A. party at the Old Folk's Home is scheduled for Sunday, February 3. Transportation will be provided from in front of Roberta Hall at 2:45. The next scheduled meeting will be a "Kick-off" party in the lounge of the Union on February 7, at 6:00.

Special guests included Mrs. Bessie Bragg, Mrs. Fred Hasenplug, and the following alumnae: Mrs. Montgomery Wilson, national treasurer; Mrs. James Bagley, Mrs. Berniece Wohlford, Mrs. Burton Richey, and Miss Mabel Cook, sponsor of the local chapter, all of Maryville, and Mrs. George Lockhart, Platte City.

Chalk Talk . . . Bob Cobb

If the high-spirited competition of the MIAA holiday Tournament is any indication of the conference race to follow, be prepared for a real barn-burner.

After seeing each league team in action, it's hard to pick a sure-fire division winner because of the tremendous balance of the conference. The tournament champion, the Cape Indians of Southeast Missouri State, certainly would appear as the surface choice, yet we have a sneaky suspicion that Charley Parsley's redskins will taste defeat before the MIAA battle is over.

Formidable Five

As for the other five league teams, the situation seems pretty equalized. Warrensburg, Maryville, and Springfield appear to be the strongest contenders based on their tournament finishings, but Kirksville has extraordinary depth, and the Rolla Miners has a quintet of gunners who can hurt anyone on a given night with their fine shooting ability.

Basing our judgment entirely on each team's tournament showing, from our vantage point we foresee no undefeated teams at the windup of the MIAA league race.

In more tournament talk, we extend congratulations to the victorious Cape Girardeau team and to our own Bearcats who surprised a lot of folks by finishing up as the tourney runner-up.

They might have taken it all, except that they put out a supreme effort in defeating the tough Warrensburg Mules in the semi-finals. Without belittling the Cape Girardeau efforts, basketball coaches and experts alike will concede that it is extremely difficult to be "up" mentally and physically for two grueling games in a row as was the case for the Bearcats.

We also doff our sombrero to the ten members of the All-Tournament team, especially to Roger Voss and Paul Lizzo who played so well, and deserved every bit of recognition they received.

It's a shame an award for the most colorful tournament performer was not given, because we've an unbeatable candidate in William Jewell's Bill Summers. This 5' 11" Globetrotter amazed the crowd with his two-handed dunkshots in the pre-game warm-ups and delighted fans with his tricky dribbling and ball-handling in actual game competition.

PEM Club Defeats DZ's in Bowling

Freshman Pem Club captured first place in the girls intramurals over the Delta Zeta team. As both teams entered the final roll-off with an eleven win and one loss record, the Freshmen Pem Club bowled ahead to win the first two out of three game play-off.

Third place title went to Pem Club and fourth place was copied by Sigma Sigma Sigma.

The Independent team placed fifth, Alpha Sigma Alpha sixth, and Phi Mu seventh.

The high scorer for the Round Robin Tournament was Ginger Barnes who bowled a high game of 204 in one of the roll-off games. Diana Campfield topped the two-game series of the tournament with a total of 336.

MSC Whips Mules In Overtime 89-90

Basketball excitement reached its peak for Bearcat followers in the second round of tournament play which saw a fired-up team of 'Cats defeat the highly-favored Warrensburg Mules, 89-80, in one overtime period.

The 'Cats fought fire with fire by stymying the Mules' one-two punch of Bud Vallino and Gordon McFarland, limiting the highly touted duo to only 28 points, while Paul Lizzo and Roger Voss garnered 55 counters between them.

Bob Caine came through for the Mules with four of six attempts from the field for eight points in the first half. Voss did an outstanding job on defense against the high-scoring Vallino. The husky 6-4, 235 pound Warrensburg front liner could manage but seven tallies in the initial period. Lizzo held McFarland from connecting on many of his normal driving lay-ups.

Lizzo countered for 16 tallies in the initial period with a five for seven fielder mark and six for six from the foul line. Voss racked up 14 markers in the premiere canto.

The 'Cats led 44-37 at half-time. Although they scored on 15 of 25 shots from the floor, for a sizzling 60 per cent average, Marion Moss' cagers were unable to withstand a determined Warrensburg rally which dead-locked the score at 79 all at the end of regulation play.

Paced by Lizzo's five overtime tallies, the 'Cats rattled off eight straight points after Warrensburg had followed a Don Drake lay-up with a free throw. Voss and Drake again hauled in the lion's share of the rebounds in the five minute extra period.

Lizzo hit his all-time career high as an MSC cager with 29 points. Voss garnered 25 tallies and grabbed 16 caroms, as the 'Cats numbered for players in double-figures with Drake and Marv Branch rounding out the quartet with 14 and 11 markers, respectively.

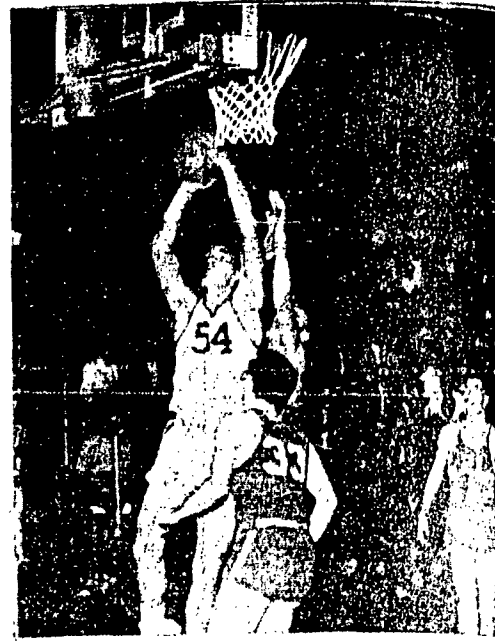

Warrensburg was paced by Bob Caine with 20 tallies. Bob Walters and Vallino had 17 each. The Mules' chances were consistently lessened by Gordon McFarland's ankle injury with two minutes left in the regulation contest.

Owls Fall To Bearcats 64-43

After starting slowly, the NWMSC Bearcats finished with a strong second half against a hustling Tarkio Owl club to gain a 64-43 victory in their first round game of the MIAA Holiday Tournament.

The much shorter Owl threw out a tight zone defense and a ball-control offense which briefly throttled the high scoring 'Cats in the initial period of play.

Paul Lizzo and Dick Rishell took up the scoring slack left by a flu-ridden Roger Voss, who despite his illness and a sinking Tarkio defense, tallied nine points and pulled down 12 rebounds.

Led by Lizzo's magnificent outside shooting in the first half which netted his 14 markers of seven fielders in twelve attempts, the 'Cats gained a 29-22 lead at the halfway standard.

In the second stanza, the 'Cats were again forced to shoot from the outside against the Tarkio zone. Back court star Rishell scorched the nets with six fielders in eight tries and added one charity toss for 13 tallies.

For the game, Lizzo and Rishell meshed 20 and 17 points respectively, for their seasonal high point totals in scoring. Don Drake played a fine floor game and chipped in with 10 points and 11 rebounds.

Richard Marchand with nine markers, and Bill Kraft with eight points paced the Tarkio scoring.

Scoring and Rebounding

In game statistics, the taller 'Cats outscored the Owls from the field, sinking 29 fielders in 67 attempts for a 43.3 mark, while the Tarkio team managed only 15 two-pointers in 51 tries for a frigid 29.4 percentage. Led by Voss and Drake, the 'Cats outrebounded the Owls, 38-24.

Both teams were cold from the charity stripe, hitting only 54 per cent for the entire contest.
